Because of a lack of participants this year, everyone had to work that much harder to make this race happen. I'd like to thank everyone for their help and encouragement. Special kudos go out to Don Hoffman, for masterminding the telephone system and manning the phone at the desk for most of Sunday; to Nancy Waddell, for working at the desk on the phone so hard that she only had time for one race run; to the Shipley family, who ran the entire kids slalom on Saturday and a judging station on Sunday; to Ted Enderlein, for spending most of Saturday on the island getting wet and cold stringing gates even though he had to return to Seattle Saturday night; and to Clive Lister, for being the only one who showed up on Friday to help hang the gates. Thank you all very much.

Peter
